Chance joined Kaplow Insurance Agency to blend his personal life and career and be able to offer his friends and family coverage on their horses, farms and ranches. "When Evan approached me about offering mortality, farm & liability through his company, the light bulb went off in my head. Now while I'm traveling down the road to horse shows on the weekends, I have the ability to help my friends out with insurance on horses they buy. I can offer the insurance protection they need on their purchases. Joining Kaplow Insurance has really rounded out my portfolio of insurance products. In my opinion we have the most comprehensive policy priced the most competitively in the industry. It makes my sales job easy!"
